WAITED TWENTY YEARS FOR HUSBAND.

Bridegroom Was in Prison Until Day of Wedding-Was Relic of Old Tweed Ring.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. New York, Feb. 22.-Charles P. Hall, formerly of Dannemora Prison, and the bride who waited for him twenty years are in this city. The Republic told this morning of his marriage at Troy on Friday to Mrs. Emily Vanderblit. Hall says that his kife is a member of a Jersey family, and is not related to Mrs. Jacob Vanderbilt, who is living in this city.

His courtship of his present wife go back more than twenty years. He says that he has known her for thirty years. His career has been a checkered one, including an escape from Sing Sing Prison in 1877. He was accused in 1873 of hypothecating certain bonds, and for three years during the reign of the Tweed ring he enjoyed im-

He then returned to Wall street and was ircident of the bonds had been forgotten. He was arrested and convicted. He escaped from Sing Sing Prison and hastened to the West but was rearrested.

"She who is now my wife," said Hall to-day, "would have married me twenty years ago, but for the fact that she believed I was doing wrong. When I had convinced her that I intended to reform and to lead a better life, she consented to be my wife, We were married on the night of my release from Dannemora prison. I now intend to devote my time to placing upon the market an invention upon which I have orked for years.

"All the trouble which I have passed "All the trouble which I have passed through has taught me that it is uscless for any one man to fight against society. I have tried, and I have failed. In the old days of the Tweed ring life was different from what it is now. If one knew the right persons he could do almost anything. I thought that I could, but when I came back to Wall street I found that I was mistaken, for I was told by certain persons that I had gone too far; that I wanted too much, and that I had no right to return after what had happened. That is where I made a mistake.

Charles P. Hall was convicted under the name of Charles W. Williamson and escaped from prison in 1877, and in 1884 was recaptured in 8t. Louis, where he was engaged in buriness.

INTERCOLLEGIATE CONTEST TO BE HELD AT BOONVILLE.

Six Colleges Will Participate and Select Orator to the Interstate Competition.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Columbia, Mo., February 22.-Six of the leading colleges of the State comprise the tion. The annual contest is one of the most important events in the college year, and they are looked forward to with interest, This year the contest is to be held at Boonville, and nearly all of the colleges have elected their representatives. The winner of the intercollegiate contest represents Association are the Missouri State University, Westminster, Fulton; Tarkie; Central, Fayette; William Jewell, Liberty, Park, Parkville. The States comprising the Inerstate Association are Missouri, Minne sota, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska and Wisconsin, Colorado, Nebraska University will be

The Missouri State University will be represented this year by Raymond G. Barnett, of Kansas City. This is his first year in the university, but he won for himself quite a reputation as an orator and declaimer in the Kansas City High School before coming to Columbia. In 1899 he won the declamatory contest, and the following year won the oratorical contest in the Cen tral High School, between the Plate and Central Literary Club. He was also editorin-chief of the Centralian, the high school paper. In addition to graduating from the Kansas City High School, Mr. Barnett is graduate of the Kansas City School of Oratory. He is the son of Fred. P. Bar-nett, the official stenographer of the Cir-cuit Court, Division 4.

Missouri has been very successful in the past intercollegiate contests, and it is con-fidently expected that Mr. Barnett will carry off the honors this year by his as-sociates in the university. In three inter-state contests Missouri has won high places with representatives from the State University. In 1891 its representative, F. P. Divelbies, won the first place, the only time it has come to Missouri. Second places were won by university representatives in 1894 by H. M. Dawes, now a prominent attorney by H. M. Dawes, now a prominent attorney of New York City, and in 1898 by Frank G. Harris now a practicing attorney of Cen-tralia, and Police Judge of that city. The State University is preparing to send to the Boonville contest 200 students to support its representative. Westminster College and Central College, both being located so near to Boonville, will also send large delegations. The contest promises to attended with even greater interest than those heretofore.

WILL PAINT THE BATTLE OF SAN JUAN HILL.

Vassili Verestchagia, Famous Russian Artist, a Presidential Visitor.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Washington, Feb. 22.-On Thursday mornng the Russian Ambassador, Count Cassini, ntroduced to the President Wassill Verestchagin, the famous Russian painter. In the evening, at the special request of the Prestdent. Mr. Verestchagin dined at the White House.

Mr. Verestchagin's experiences in the Eastern wars, during the last forty years, no doubt afforded him an opportunity to recall many interesting anecdotes.

The artist expressed himself highly pleased at meeting the President, whom he regarded as a many gifted and versatile man. It is stated that Verestchagin will paint the bat-tle of San Juan Hill, being the most inter-enting land battle of the Spanish-American war, and in which the President took part as the Colonel in command of the regiment of Rough Riders. He will get data from the War Department and go to Cuba to HARRIS Wants Your Feet Farris 407 N. sketch the topography of the battle ground, and use a company of our soddlers in Cuba as models in various parts of the field of action at the critical moment.

Way From New York to Be at Trial.

Mrs. Mary Taylor of New York City has come all the way to St. Louis in the hope of saving her son, William, from the Penitentiary. Though barely 17 years old, he is charged with highway robbery, and his case will be called in Judge Douglas's court to-morrow morning.

Taylor is a codefendant with a man by the name of Larry Gavick. They were leading colleges of the State comprise the tried for the robbery in January, but the Missouri Intercollegiate Oratorical Associa- jury failed to agree and the case was reset. After the first trial, J. A. Shaner, the atterney who defended the boy, noti-fied his mother, and she decided to come on for the second trial. She arrived Friday night, and yesterday morning was one of the first persons in the Four Courts build-ing to see her son. Captain Huebler admitted her before the regular visiting hours, Missouri in the interstate contest that will and there was an affecting meeting. The be held this year at St. Paul, Minn., in boy wept at sight of her and declared that he was innocent of the crime charged against him.

against him. If opportunity is offered, Mrs. Taylor will take the stand in her son's defense. He and Gavick are charged with holding up Wiliam Yeager near the Tower Grove Station of the Frisco Railroad on the night of September 16. Yeager was assaulted by two men while he was waiting for a train. One of them knocked him down with a slug and the other covered him with a sing and the other covered nim with a revolver. While he was lying on the ground, they took 35 cents and a gold watch from him.

Yeager reported the robbery to the police when he recovered consciousness, and they arrested Taylor and Gavick in the neighborhood a short while afterwards. Yeager identified them and swore out a warrant against them. They have been in juil since then.

The following public statement of a respected citizen adds one more emphatic indorsement of merit to the scores that have appeared before:

Mr. W. J. Kren, living at No. 2212 South Eleventh street, fireman at the Anheuser-Busch Brewery's Ice Piant, says: "I had attacks of Kidney compiaint for over five years, and during that time was laid up on two or three occasions, once for over two weeks. Before I went to Wolff-Wilson Drug Company for boan's Kidney Pills, I had exhausted all my knowledge of kidney medicines and plasters. The latter, on account of the heat I am subjected to as fireman, usually dropped off in two days. If Doan's Kidney Pills had not cured the last attack of backache I never would have recommended the Pills to more than one of my friends and acquaintances."
